

INFLEUENZA PUTS ALL BG EASTERN CITIES IN PERIL

New York Has 999 New Cases and Pneumonia Deaths Increase.

PHILADELPHIA HARD HIT Camps, Munition Plants, Shipyards and Colleges Affected by Epidemic.

New York city developed 999 new cases of Spanish influenza yesterday, as against 903 reported on Wednesday. Dr. Royal S. Copeland insisted that the situation still is well in hand here, that the disease is spreading very slowly in the metropolis, as shown by the fact that there have been but 5,000 cases reported since September 18, the date when influenza became noticeably prevalent.

There were 126 new cases of pneumonia here yesterday, as against 111 on Wednesday. Deaths from pneumonia were sixty-seven yesterday, as compared to fifty-eight the day before; deaths from influenza numbered forty-eight yesterday, fifty-eight on Wednesday.

Figures tabulated by the Department of Health show that about 10 per cent. of the people who contract influenza here later develop pneumonia, and about 50 per cent. of the latter cases prove fatal.

Experiment With Serum.
The department is working on a serum and a vaccine to prevent influenza and its complications. Both are in an experimental stage. The department does not credit it, or any other serum, with being a positive preventive of the disease.

Boston and Philadelphia reached an alarming state in the epidemic yesterday. Dr. B. F. Rorer, State Commissioner of Health, issued an order last night closing every place of public amusement and every saloon in all Pennsylvania until further notice. Philadelphia has 22,000 cases. Both in Philadelphia and Boston examination of draft registrants was postponed indefinitely so as to prevent their contracting the disease.

Epidemic Cripples Shipyards.
Shipyards were crippled, also the Massachusetts cities, which have not previously been included in the operations of the service against influenza. These included Wilmington, Del.; Chester, Pa.; and Hopedale, Mass.

To prevent an epidemic in Washington, with long queues before doctors' offices, in Washington orders were issued closing all theatres and motion picture houses until further notice.

The Surgeon-General issued an order which stops any more nurses being sent to army hospitals in France until the epidemic is past here, this despite Gen. Pershing's urgent plea for more nurses.

Spread Continues in Camps.
Further spread of influenza over the country and in the camps, with an increasing death rate was indicated in reports received yesterday by the public health service and at the office of the Surgeon-General.

New cases developing in army camps totaled 12,004, with reports lacking from Camps Sherman, Ohio; Taylor, Kentucky; and others. In the latter disease has reached epidemic proportions. This total was a decrease over that of yesterday, but 920 new cases of pneumonia were reported as against 875 the day before and deaths were 331 compared with 271 yesterday.

The total number of influenza cases reported in the camps since the epidemic began, September 12, is 113,737. Pneumonia cases total 5,575 and deaths 2,178.

INCREASING IN CAMDEN.
2,000 Shipworkers Now Ill With Influenza.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 3.—Influenza is on the increase in this city in spite of the efforts of the health authorities to check it by closing all places of public assembly. Twenty-one deaths were reported today, one of the victims being George D. Connelly, a leading attorney. The two big hospitals are jammed and unable to take any more patients. More than 2,000 of the 11,000 workers of the New York Shipbuilding Corporation are ill.

In Gloucester the situation is extremely grave. Of a population of 11,000 more than 3,000 are reported ill with influenza. Dr. John K. Bennett, city physician, died of it yesterday. The Board of Health has asked the Surgeon-General of the Army to send physicians and nurses.

SUNDAY RIDES TO FIGHT GRIP.
Governor Wants Gasoline Ban Lifted in Bay State.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Gov. McCall suggested today to James J. Storrow, State Fuel Administrator, that he ask the National Fuel Board to permit the operation of automobiles in this State on Sundays, pointing out that lifting of the ban would enable thousands to get fresh air and sunshine and so help in the fight against influenza.

DISCUSS CHURCH CLOSING.

Boston Authorities Take Measures to Halt Epidemic.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—Although the death list in the grip epidemic was larger today than yesterday, 107 from influenza and twenty from pneumonia, health authorities profess to be encouraged. Mayor Peters talked with clergymen today in regard to closing all churches. The question was put over until tomorrow, when closing of all saloons also will be considered.

Gov. Sturtevant sent a request to New England Fuel Administrator Storrow asking him to make a request of National Fuel Administrator Garfield that Sunday automobiles be allowed in the State. Sturtevant said that if permission were granted thousands who now remain indoors on Sunday would be able to get the fresh air and sunshine which is prescribed as a preventative of grip.

Three deaths occurred at the naval hospital in Chelsea and one death was reported from a hospital in Portsmouth, N. H. Major Arthur E. Austin reported five new cases and one death at the Robert Brigham Hospital.

All physical examinations of draft registrants are suspended until further notice. All physical examinations of registrants with legal advisory boards in this State were suspended by Adj. Gen. Jesse P. Stevens today. This order will also suspend physical examinations of registrants to examine registrants. Reports received at the State House today from eighty-three cities and towns outside of Boston listed 7,324 new cases of influenza and 103 deaths.

NURSES KEPT FROM OVERSEAS.
Pershing's Supply Cut Off to Fight Influenza Epidemic.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE SUN.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Transportation of nurses and nurses' aids from this country to the American hospitals in France was stopped by the Surgeon-General's office today until the epidemic of influenza is under control.

The order provides also that nurses and their assistants will not be received into the medical training camps on this side until the danger of the disease has been removed.

An emergency of major proportions in the nursing facilities of the American hospitals in France already exists as a result of the influenza epidemic, which has been spreading since the summer. Recent preliminary requests from Gen. Pershing for the immediate sending of nurses and nurses' aids have been received here.

Gen. Pershing has been informed that it will be some time before the present plans for meeting the emergency are carried out. He has been told that on the other side making a study of the situation.

Physicians are expected today to report to the military health service in this country the number of influenza cases which have not previously been included in the operations of the service against influenza. These included Wilmington, Del.; Chester, Pa.; and Hopedale, Mass.

To prevent an epidemic in Washington, with long queues before doctors' offices, in Washington orders were issued closing all theatres and motion picture houses until further notice.

The Surgeon-General issued an order which stops any more nurses being sent to army hospitals in France until the epidemic is past here, this despite Gen. Pershing's urgent plea for more nurses.

35,000 MASKS TO FIGHT GRIP.
New York Red Cross Chapter Kept Busy—Many Nurses Needed.

The New York Chapter of the American Red Cross, which has been working in the city since the epidemic began, yesterday reported that it had distributed eight thousand of these masks, which are being worn by the public health service and at the office of the Surgeon-General.

New cases developing in army camps totaled 12,004, with reports lacking from Camps Sherman, Ohio; Taylor, Kentucky; and others. In the latter disease has reached epidemic proportions. This total was a decrease over that of yesterday, but 920 new cases of pneumonia were reported as against 875 the day before and deaths were 331 compared with 271 yesterday.

The total number of influenza cases reported in the camps since the epidemic began, September 12, is 113,737. Pneumonia cases total 5,575 and deaths 2,178.

ALL PUBLIC PLACES CLOSED.
Pennsylvania Schools, Churches, Theatres, Saloons, to Suspend.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—Dr. B. F. Rorer, State Commissioner of Health, tonight ordered all schools, churches, theatres, saloons and places of public assembly closed in the entire State of Pennsylvania until further notice.

SMOKE SPEEDS U. S. BOYS ON TOBERLIN

"Send All Tobacco You Can: It Will Help Win War," Soldier Writes.

PLAN FOR BIRTHDAY PARTY in Moffat Street Block Party in Brooklyn Promises to Be Banner Event.

A general and natural inquiry is made almost daily to the New York Tobacco Fund of the fighting boys who will spend that holiday in the trenches or on the front line in open warfare.

The New York Tobacco Fund has made one reply to this request for advice, a reply which it feels justified in believing would be sanctioned by all the fighting men who have benefited by the smoke fund.

"Send the money you would lay out for your boy's natal feast to the New York Tobacco Fund to buy smokes for him and his comrades."

This advice has proved generally acceptable and a number of parents have acted on it. The fund has received $100 to the fund for buying smokes for our soldiers in honor of the birthday of her son, Charles J. Moffat, Jr. His birthday falls on October 19, when he will be 28 years old. He is a sub-officer in the Ordnance Department. His birthday gift from his mother is sure to add to his popularity among his comrades.

The smoke fund hopes that when Mrs. Oppenheim receives the letter of thanks certain to come she will let the fund know what she has done.

George A. Latchman of Ordnance Depot No. 1 has sent his acknowledgment for tobacco shared by him and his comrades. He writes: "I don't know what the others feel like when they have nothing to smoke, but when I am in my barracks I feel like a king. I don't know what the others feel like when they have nothing to smoke, but when I am in my barracks I feel like a king."

Major H. A. Hanby sends his thanks to Mrs. Mary Perry for some cigars received by this fund. "Your handsome gift is being enjoyed by myself and the boys in my company," he writes.

From actual subscriptions and donations received it seems safe to predict that the block party and flag raising to be held on the 19th of October will be a banner event.

The boys of the Tenth street between First and A avenues equitably divided the proceeds of the block party and flag raising held last Saturday night. The money was used for the benefit of the medical unit of the Fifteenth regiment, which is collecting for an ambulance and this fund money. Each regiment has a fund of its own.

The boys were led by J. Hoffman and George Wild, assisted by J. Lomonon, J. Stein, N. Schmale, Dr. Greenberg, Charles Warren, W. Weinstein and F. F. Rorer. The parade was led by the Rev. Father McGrath of St. Mark's Church, the Rev. Father of St. Mark's Church, the Rev. Father of St. Mark's Church, the Rev. Father of St. Mark's Church.

The Bronx in 148th street between Home street and Union avenue for October 12 by this committee. Louis Schneider, chairman, Louis Schneider, chairman, Louis Schneider, chairman.

The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock. The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock.

The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock. The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock.

The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock. The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock.

The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock. The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock.

The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock. The program for the Chinese festival for the afternoon and evening of October 24 in Chinatown will start at 2 o'clock.

MILK PRICES PUT UP CENT AND A HALF

Producers and Distributors Accept New Hoover Schedule

Representatives of the Dairyman's League, the New York Milk Conference Board and the Federal Food Board agreed yesterday at the close of a conference lasting three days upon a new schedule of milk prices in New York city, by which the producers agreed to accept a 15-cent advance on the price of milk, and the retailers agreed to make no advance beyond 1 1/2 cents a quart for the consumer.

The price to the consumer of the milk of the advance scale to the consumer is effective today.

What the agreement means to the man who pays the bill is that he is to pay this month one and one-half cents a quart more for milk of the top grades, with the other grades in proportion, than he did in September.

The advance in the price of milk was made in the form of a letter from the Milk Conference Board to Herbert C. Hoover, and in resolutions adopted by the Dairyman's League. They followed representations by Mr. Hoover.

DOUBTS OWN SANITY, BUT RESISTS DRAFT
Prof. Marquette to Be Taken Before Local Board and Enrolled.

Admitting that he is probably wrong and confessing a doubt of his own sanity, Prof. Marquette of Columbia University still refused yesterday in the United States District Court to register voluntarily for military service.

Judge Henry D. Clayton, who thought the circumstances were so extraordinary that he acted only after twice giving the professor a chance to reconsider his stand, committed him to the Tombs Prison to be held until today, when he is to be taken before Local Board No. 10 of the city.

He faces immediate induction into the army.

When arraigned, charged with violating the selective service law, Marquette said: "Your Honor, I am placed in the wretched position here of having the alternative of acting against my better judgment or violating the law. In view of the universal condemnation of my stand, I can't but conclude that in the public interest I should accept the law."

By standing here against the judgment of my fellow citizens it is much easier for me through the realization of the fact by doing so I won't hamper the prosecution of the war. On the other hand, if the unbelievable ever should come to pass, if I should have a truer conception of the situation, I should be glad to stand by the conviction with which I am faced, I should be glad to stand by the conviction with which I am faced.

Judge Clayton, who lives in Alabama, and as a Congressman, indicated that his past had been exhausted. The Judge wears upon his coat sleeve a black band with a gold star for a relative killed in the service.

Are you laboring under a form of brain fever? he asked. "Have you any exaggerated ego that gives you a belief in your own infallibility? Are you suffering from mental aberration?"

"There is a grave possibility that I am suffering from a mental aberration," Judge Clayton replied. "I have thought of that and applied tests, but have not detected any such condition."

Judge Clayton explained that the registration was simply a national census and the law does not require that all who are recorded shall become soldiers.

Exalts His Own Wisdom.
"If the enumeration were made in time of peace you would comply with the law," said the court. "But you now put yourself up as possessing wisdom superior to that of the president of the United States, in chief, and to the enlightened opinion of the united American people."

After telling Marquette that if his physical or mental condition were found to be below normal he would not be inducted into the army Judge Clayton said: "I am not an alienist, but I have not the slightest doubt of your sincerity. I do not think you have a yellow streak, or a coward or an enemy of your country. I think you are a man of good sense, but you are a man of good sense."

When Marquette expressed his thanks to the court, Judge Clayton said: "I don't need to thank you. I am satisfied. I think the court should have the services of a doctor and an alienist at the time." Marquette is 35 years old. He has a bachelor's degree from the University of Pennsylvania, Westchester county.

BEAT THE FIGURES AS TAX LIEN BUYER

Comptroller of Nassau County Alleged to Have Extorted Heavy Profit.

COCKS TO SUPPLY LIST
Chairman of Mayor's Committee Appeals for Postponement of Next Big Sale.

It appeared from testimony heard by Magistrate Appleton yesterday that Earl J. Bennett, now Comptroller of Nassau county, bought a lot at a Nassau tax sale and sold it to the original owner for nearly thirty-eight times as much as Mr. Bennett paid for it.

The Magistrate immediately sent a subpoena down to Rockville Centre, where Mr. Bennett lives, and practices law, directing him to appear in court in the Municipal Building at noon to-day as witness in the tax sale investigation.

Under the law Mr. Bennett had a right to charge what he pleased for the land, but the Magistrate wants to ask him what he thinks of the law.

The witness who told about his dealings with Mr. Bennett, they took place two years ago, just before the election which made Mr. Bennett, a wholesale dealer, living at 220 West Twenty-first street. He is the administrator of the estate of his father, who owned a good deal of property in Rockville Centre.

Received No Tax Bill.
About eleven years ago, said Mr. Wettsch, he bought four lots at Rockville Centre.

"About seven years after I bought the lots," he continued, "a young man called me up and asked me if I wanted to buy one of my own lots. He said he held a deed to the lot and that he was willing to sell it to me for $1,000."

He said he would not sell it to me for less than $1,000. I went to the county office in Mineola and found out that the Assessor, in making up the tax list for 1907, had made a mistake. The tax due on two of my lots had not been included in the bill sent me. I had paid what I thought was all the taxes, but on account of the mistake I was owing $1,000 more.

I received no notice of that fact. Each year after that the bills were correct, and I was paying the taxes. I continued to pay the taxes. I continued to pay the taxes.

"There was nothing for me to do but try to buy them back, as the lots were constantly increasing in value and were worth $2,000 each. I invited the young man to luncheon and asked him how much he wanted for the lot he had bought from the county. He said he would sell it to me for $1,000."

I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000.

"I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000."

"I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000."

"I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000."

"I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000."

"I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000."

"I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000. I offered him $1,000 and he said he would sell it to me for $1,000."

BELGIANS IN RAGS, SAYS CONSUL HERE

Special Appeal for Warm Clothes Made to New York.

Henri W. Mail, Belgian Consul in New York, yesterday sent a special appeal to the New York City Chapter of the Red Cross for clothing. Hundreds of Belgians living in the section retained from the Germans by the advance of the Belgian army between Ypres and the coast are literally in rags, Mr. Mail said. The garments are also needed for the civilian population in that portion of northern France which has been freed of the invaders.

"You cannot imagine enough upon all your friends that in not four years since occupied Belgium has received cotton or wool from the outside," wrote Mr. Mail to the Red Cross officials. "We are in a desperate straits."

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments. The trucks were packed with garments.

CO-FOUNDER OF QUARTERMASTERS CORPS IS CHARGED WITH CRIME.

H. J. Hirsch of the Quartermasters Corps Is Charged With Crime.

AVIATION SUPPLY CASE
Accused Man Involved With Rosenwassers, Who Will Appear To-day.

The case grows out of the serious prosecution of officers and civilians on the part of United States District Attorney Francis of Brooklyn and his assistant, H. Harvey Harwood, based on a conspiracy to cheat the Government in passing off inferior uniforms and equipment. Hitherto the highest rank touched in the general investigation was that of Captain.

July 30 Capt. Aubrey W. Vaughn was indicted with others for conspiracy to defraud, Vaughn having been charged with facilitating the passing of inferior uniforms and equipment. This case was on trial in the Federal District Court, a mistrial being caused by the illness of Judge J. C. Hutcheson.

The case grows out of the serious prosecution of officers and civilians on the part of United States District Attorney Francis of Brooklyn and his assistant, H. Harvey Harwood, based on a conspiracy to cheat the Government in passing off inferior uniforms and equipment. Hitherto the highest rank touched in the general investigation was that of Captain.

July 30 Capt. Aubrey W. Vaughn was indicted with others for conspiracy to defraud, Vaughn having been charged with facilitating the passing of inferior uniforms and equipment. This case was on trial in the Federal District Court, a mistrial being caused by the illness of Judge J. C. Hutcheson.

The case grows out of the serious prosecution of officers and civilians on the part of United States District Attorney Francis of Brooklyn and his assistant, H. Harvey Harwood, based on a conspiracy to cheat the Government in passing off inferior uniforms and equipment. Hitherto the highest rank touched in the general investigation was that of Captain.

July 30 Capt. Aubrey W. Vaughn was indicted with others for conspiracy to defraud, Vaughn having been charged with facilitating the passing of inferior uniforms and equipment. This case was on trial in the Federal District Court, a mistrial being caused by the illness of Judge J. C. Hutcheson.

The case grows out of the serious prosecution of officers and civilians on the part of United States District Attorney Francis of Brooklyn and his assistant, H. Harvey Harwood, based on a conspiracy to cheat the Government in passing off inferior uniforms and equipment. Hitherto the highest rank touched in the general investigation was that of Captain.

July 30 Capt. Aubrey W. Vaughn was indicted with others for conspiracy to defraud, Vaughn having been charged with facilitating the passing of inferior uniforms and equipment. This case was on trial in the Federal District Court, a mistrial being caused by the illness of Judge J. C. Hutcheson.

The case grows out of the serious prosecution of officers and civilians on the part of United States District Attorney Francis of Brooklyn and his assistant, H. Harvey Harwood, based on a conspiracy to cheat the Government in passing off inferior uniforms and equipment. Hitherto the highest rank touched in the general investigation was that of Captain.

July 30 Capt. Aubrey W. Vaughn was indicted with others for conspiracy to defraud, Vaughn having been charged with facilitating the passing of inferior uniforms and equipment. This case was on trial in the Federal District Court, a mistrial being caused by the illness of Judge J. C. Hutcheson.

The case grows out of the serious prosecution of officers and civilians on the part of United States District Attorney Francis of Brooklyn and his assistant, H. Harvey Harwood, based on a conspiracy to cheat the Government in passing off inferior uniforms and equipment. Hitherto the highest rank touched in the general investigation was that of Captain.

July 30 Capt. Aubrey W. Vaughn was indicted with others for conspiracy to defraud, Vaughn having been charged with facilitating the passing of inferior uniforms and equipment. This case was on trial in the Federal District Court, a mistrial being caused by the illness of Judge J. C. Hutcheson.

The case grows out of the serious prosecution of officers and civilians on the part of United States District Attorney Francis of Brooklyn and his assistant, H. Harvey Harwood, based on a conspiracy to cheat the Government in passing off inferior uniforms and equipment. Hitherto the highest rank touched in the general investigation was that of Captain.

July 30 Capt. Aubrey W. Vaughn was indicted with others for conspiracy to defraud, Vaughn having been charged with facilitating the passing of inferior uniforms and equipment. This case was on trial in the Federal District Court, a mistrial being caused by the illness of Judge J. C. Hutcheson.

The case grows out of the serious prosecution of officers and civilians on the part of United States District Attorney Francis of Brooklyn and his assistant, H. Harvey Harwood, based on a conspiracy to cheat the Government in passing off inferior uniforms and equipment. Hitherto the highest rank touched in the general investigation was that of Captain.

July 30 Capt. Aubrey W. Vaughn was indicted with others for conspiracy to defraud, Vaughn having been charged with facilitating the passing of inferior uniforms and equipment. This case was on trial in the Federal District Court, a mistrial being caused by the illness of Judge J. C. Hutcheson.

The Sun Calendar

THE WEATHER.

For eastern New York, fair and cooler to-day; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For New Jersey, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Pennsylvania, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Maryland, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Virginia, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For North Carolina, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For South Carolina, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Georgia, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Florida, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Alabama, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Louisiana, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Mississippi, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Arkansas, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Missouri, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Illinois, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Indiana, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.

For Ohio, fair and cooler to-morrow; fair to-morrow, continued cool; fresh northwest winds on the coast.